

We're moving AJEC online ...

With many of the world's leading journals now offered online, the Australian Journal of Early Childhood will be providing e-access later this year.

This exciting new option will allow you to:

- access full-content articles online
- save downloadable PDFs on your personal computer
- be first to read the latest in early childhood research and debate.

You will need to return this form if you would like the benefits of online access. There's no extra cost (and you'll continue to receive your paper copy).

- 1 Please enter your email address

- 2 You can choose to receive online copy only (you can change your mind later)
