

Dr Addie Wootten

Dr Addie Wootten is the CEO of Smiling Mind. She joined the organisation two years ago and has led the release of a new brand, a new technology platform and new research evaluating the impact of the Smiling Mind programs.

Addie brings her extensive background in clinical psychology, research and e-health to her position as CEO. Addie is a well-known leader in her field. She has developed and evaluated a range of online wellbeing tools, and has published widely. Prior to joining Smiling Mind, she delivered and researched innovative programs to enhance the wellbeing of people with cancer.

